EXPLANATORY NOTES

The purpose of this bill is to foster transparency in the lobbying of public office holders and to ensure that lobbying activities are properly conducted.

First, the bill defines what constitutes lobbying or a lobbying activity and distinguishes between consultant lobbyists, enterprise lobbyists and organization lobbyists.

The bill further provides that certain information concerning lobbyists and their activities will be entered and kept up to date in a public registry, notably information as to the subject-matter of lobbying activities. A Lobbyists Registrar will be designated to keep the registry of lobbyists.

As well, a Lobbyists Commissioner will be appointed by the National Assembly to monitor and control the activities of lobbyists. The Lobbyists Commissioner will also be responsible for drafting a code of conduct for lobbyists and for making inquiries and inspections with respect to any contravention of the provisions of the Act or the code of conduct.

In addition, the bill prohibits certain practices by lobbyists and provides for disciplinary measures and penalties for any breach of the provisions of the Act or the code of conduct.

LEGISLATION AMENDED BY THIS BILL :

- Act respecting the Ministère du Revenu (R.S.Q., chapter M-31);
- Act to amend the Act respecting the Ministère du Revenu and other legislative provisions as regards the protection of confidential information (2002, chapter 5).

THE PARLIAMENT OF QUÉBEC ENACTS AS FOLLOWS :

CHAPTER I

PURPOSE AND APPLICATION

1. While recognizing that lobbying is a legitimate means of access to parliamentary, government and municipal institutions and that it is in the interest of the public that it be able to know who is attempting to influence such institutions, this Act is designed to foster transparency in the lobbying of public office holders and to ensure that lobbying activities are properly conducted.

2. Any oral or written communication with a public office holder in an attempt to influence or that may reasonably be considered by the initiator of the communication as capable of influencing a decision concerning constitutes lobbying or a lobbying activity within the meaning of this Act.

A judge of the Court of Appeal may, upon a motion, annul on summary examination any decision, order or injunction issued or granted contrary to the first paragraph.

§4. — Confidentiality orders

49. At the request of a person who is required to effect a registration in the registry of lobbyists, the Lobbyists Commissioner may order that some or all of the information contained in the return that must be filed for registration purposes be kept confidential if the information relates to an investment project of the client or enterprise concerned the disclosure of which would likely seriously prejudice the economic or financial interest of the client or enterprise.

Unless the Commissioner extends the order at the request of the interested person for the period determined by the Commissioner, the decision of the Commissioner shall cease to have effect at the expiry of six months from the filing of the return concerned in the registry of lobbyists. The Commissioner shall send a notice of the decision to the Lobbyists Registrar.

An extension of the order may be renewed, with the necessary modifications, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

50. On the filing of a copy of a confidentiality order, the Lobbyists Registrar shall file the return, but shall ensure that the information covered by the order is kept confidential.

The confidentiality of the information may only be lifted on the receipt by the Registrar of a notice from the Commissioner authorizing it.

51. The annual activity report of the Commissioner shall state the number of orders issued or renewed during the year pursuant to this subdivision.

§5. — Notice

52. Except as regards matters that are within the purview of the Lobbyists Registrar pursuant to section 22, the Lobbyists Commissioner may issue and publish notices concerning the carrying out, interpretation or application of this Act, a regulation thereunder or the code of conduct.

53. If the Lobbyists Commissioner ascertains that a lobbyist has gravely or repeatedly breached the obligations imposed on lobbyists by this Act or the code of conduct adopted under this Act, the Commissioner may prohibit the registration of the lobbyist in the registry of lobbyists or order the cancellation of all entries in the registry concerning the lobbyist.

The prohibition or cancellation period may not exceed one year from the effective date of the decision of the Commissioner.

54. Before issuing a decision, the Commissioner must inform the lobbyist of the intended decision and the reasons therefor and of the content of any complaints regarding the lobbyist. The Commissioner must also give the lobbyist the opportunity to present observations and, where necessary, to file documents to complete his or her file.

56. On receiving a copy of a decision of the Commissioner to such effect, the Lobbyists Registrar shall cancel all entries in the registry concerning the lobbyist.

The Registrar shall refuse to make any entry in the registry concerning the lobbyist until the expiry of the prohibition or cancellation period.

The appeal does not suspend the decision of the Commissioner unless the judge decides otherwise. The appeal is heard and decided by preference.

The decision of the judge is final.

58. On receiving an inquiry report from the Commissioner ascertaining that a lobbyist has in any way breached the obligations imposed on lobbyists by this Act or the code of conduct, the Attorney General may claim from the lobbyist the amount or value of any financial or other compensation received by or payable to the lobbyist on account of the activities having occasioned the breach.

In such a case, the lobbyist is liable toward the State for the amount established in the Attorney General's claim.

The enterprise or group within which the lobbyist was acting at the time of the breach is solidarily liable with the lobbyist for payment of the amount claimed by the Attorney General.

The provisions of this section also apply, with the necessary modifications, to a third person, enterprise or organization which has contravened section 27.

59. The measures provided for in this division are prescribed three years after the occurrence of the breach.
