TVQ. 176-7 Supplies of pacemakers, implantable cardioverter defibrillators and artificial cardiac valves (December 28, 2007). Withdrawn because the Québec sales tax system is harmonized with the goods and services tax and harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) system. For a supply of a medical or surgical prosthesis, Revenu Québec applies the principles explained in the Canada Revenue Agency publication Excise and GST/HST News - No. 89 (Summer 2013).

TVQ. 321-2 Judicial Sale, Sale by Judicial Authority and Sale by the Creditor of Corporeal Movable Property (November 30, 1998). Withdrawn because it essentially restates the language of the law. Moreover, given that the Québec sales tax system is generally harmonized with the goods and services tax and harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) system as regards the rules discussed in the bulletin, Revenu Québec generally applies the same principles as those set out and explained by the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) in various documents on these same rules under the GST/HST system that are available on the CRA website.
